The Erin Anderson Excellence in PhD Education Fund

Erin had a passion for PhD education. In all she chaired seven dissertation committees, served in the committees of eleven other PhD students, and advised countless others. To honor Erin's memory and to maintain her legacy, we are establishing an award in her name. The award will be given every year to an outstanding marketing PhD student and will provide funds for research and traveling. In recognition of Erin's support for the INSEAD/Wharton alliance, and considering that her career was evenly split between Wharton and INSEAD, the award will alternate between an INSEAD and a Wharton marketing PhD student.

The INSEAD/Wharton Center for Global Research & Education will provide the seed money for the establishment of the PhD award.
