Breakout sessions

(Participants Select One During Registration)

Session 1: Harnessing the power of networking

Facilitators:

- Pieter Nuboer, Vice President, ANH, Asia Pacific, DSM
- Sara Surer-Geiser - VP People & Organization Nutrition Asia, DSM

If you want to go quickly, go alone. If you want to go far, go together – African proverb

We all know that building a network is important. But where do we start and who should we connect with? Interestingly, research has shown that networking for the purpose of advancing our professional goals can make us actually feel uncomfortable. So, what can be done to increase our confidence to actively start working on our network and capture the value and success of networking? Join DSM's Pieter Nuboer and Sara Surer as they share their personal stories on the power of networking and engage in a dialogue with you on some thought-provoking tips on how to build and maintain strong professional relationships.

Session 2: Career acceleration strategies for an everchanging future

Facilitator: Sze-Yen Chee, Executive Director, Career Agility International

Today's world is changing faster than ever before. How do we stay ahead, ride the wave, stay relevant? Sometimes we hold ourselves back without knowing it, with habits that are comfortable. Today's topic focuses on some ideas and tips on how to move ahead with essential soft-skills that professionals need to be aware of in their climb up the corporate ladder and to accelerate their career.

Session 3: Getting ahead with mentors and sponsors

Facilitator: Angela Leong, Advisor Learning Faculty – Leader Development, Shell

People work for different reasons and if your motivation is about progressing in your professional career, then it is time to understand how mentors and sponsors can create the uplift. Given the different experiences that mentors, sponsors, mentees and/or proteges have accumulated over time, this session seeks to bring in the collective wisdom of the group to create clarity and purpose in the face of sobering truths and undiscovered opportunities.
