INSEAD Language Proficiency Measurement Scale

INSEAD uses a five-level scale which measures language competency. This is in line with the Common European Framework of Reference for language levels (CEFR). Below is a table which indicates the proficiency needed to fulfil INSEAD language requirement.

To be admitted to the GEMBA Programme, a candidate must have a “fluent” level in English. (More details can be found on Page 4.)

A candidate must also have at least an “A2 basic” level of understanding of a second language. (More details can be found on Page 5.)

Native Languages - Please note the following:

✓ The definition of a native language is the first language you have been exposed to from birth and the language in which you consider yourself most fluent and skilled. Therefore, it is not necessary for you to certify your first declared native language.

✓ You may declare a second native language in your application. Please note that proof will be required to validate your second declared native language.
English Proficiency Certification

If English is not your native language, you might be asked to demonstrate your level of English. Please find below the following ways you could do this, if asked:

- A UNIVERSITY DEGREE - a minimum of one full-time academic year, taught exclusively in English, with a diploma received from that host university (an exchange programme does not qualify, English major at university does not qualify.)
  The transcripts should clearly mention the language of instruction is English.

- TOEFL
  www.toefl.org Internet-based test (recommended minimum score: 103)

- PTE Academic
  www.pearsonpte.com (recommended minimum score: 70)

- IELTS Academic
  www.ielts.org (recommended minimum score: 7.5)

- INSEAD Assessment - If you register for the INSEAD Assessment, we will assess your level of English.

The combination of your native language and your English proficiency is sufficient means to satisfy the GEMBA language requirements.
GEMBA Second Language Requirement

If English is your native language, we do not require proof to certify your level of English.

To satisfy the Second language requirement, you will need to provide acceptable means of certification as soon as possible, and before the programme ends.

Acceptable means to certify competence for the Second language requirement (in addition to English):

- Second native language
  Examined only on a case-by-case basis and requires evidence of actual use.

- Final Secondary School Exam
  Exam and schooling must be conducted in the language:
  E.g. Brevet or Baccalauréat to validate French; Immersion programme in Canada; Abitur for German; Maturita for Italian, (for Singaporeans) GCE "A" level or "O" level for Mandarin, Tamil & Malay; Secondary Education Certificate for Hindi or other national Indian languages (10th grade minimum) and for Afrikaans, etc.

- University education
  a) Conducted in the language (certification required).
  b) A university major or minor in the language.

- Certification from state-recognised cultural or commercial bodies currently known to INSEA
  You are free to choose which second language you declare, but it is your responsibility to ensure that the language you choose can be tested (both oral and written) by an official institution.
