PHD IN ENTREPRENEURSHIP

INSEAD is looking for candidates to join the PhD in Entrepreneurship for the 2024 intake. Applicants keen to pursue a successful career in academia as a professor of management specialising in Entrepreneurship are highly encouraged to apply. We are now accepting applications for the 2024 intake at <https://insead.phd-apply-2024>.

Entrepreneurship research at INSEAD seeks to understand the creation and growth of new organisations and markets, the renewal of existing companies, the design of new businesses within existing firms, innovation, and family business in a global world. Such research is conducted from the lens of management fields such as organisation theory and strategy and social science disciplines such as sociology, economics, and psychology. It addresses the challenges and opportunities of building and developing new businesses as a mechanism for value creation.

The Entrepreneurship and Family Enterprise faculty members are widely recognised for their excellence in research, as reflected by their prolific publications in top academic journals and their leadership positions in the academic community. Our outstanding faculty members serve as senior, associate, and guest editors of leading journals in the management fields, such as Administrative Science Quarterly, Organization Science, Academy of Management Journal, and Strategic Management Journal, to name a few.

The expertise and research interests of Entrepreneurship faculty include:

- nascent entrepreneurship
- serial entrepreneurship
- social entrepreneurship
- incumbent and new entrant strategic alliances
- the role of networks and social capital in the entrepreneurial process
- innovation and entrepreneurship in large firms
- business model innovation
- managing growth and value creation
- organisational change and evolution
- leadership in entrepreneurial firms
- management buy-outs and buy-ins
- private equity, venture capital and corporate venture capital
- family business
- entrepreneurship in emerging markets

WHAT ARE WE LOOKING FOR IN OUR PROSPECTS?

Candidates can come from various academic backgrounds in social sciences, sciences, management, engineering, etc. Prior research experience is helpful but not an absolute necessity.

Given the Entrepreneurship area's approach to research, students will receive training in the foundation of organisation theory and strategy, core knowledge of entrepreneurship, and research methodology to have the essential tools to conduct rigorous research while collaborating with faculty and peers in various research projects and activities. Through intensive and thorough training, students will have a solid foundation for their research, develop their unique research identity, and identify and build promising research agendas.
